Once upon a time, there were two clowns named Happy and Silly. They loved to make people laugh, and they traveled all over the world, performing in circuses and at parties. One day, they came to a small town where the people were very sad. The mayor of the town told them that a terrible storm had destroyed all of the crops, and the people were worried about how they would survive.

Happy and Silly decided to do something to help. They put on their clown costumes and went out into the streets, juggling and making balloon animals. The people started to smile and laugh, and soon they forgot all about their troubles.

The mayor was so grateful to Happy and Silly that he gave them a special award. The award was a gold medal that said, "The Clowns: Best Clowns in the World." Happy and Silly were so proud of their award, and they continued to travel the world, making people laugh.
